

Family of the Year Award

The Family is an important part of Scouting. Family support for each youth and adult ensures Scouting success. Parents who volunteer as leaders provide vital support for their children, and the character development of Scouting's youth make a parent's job a bit easier and more fulfilling. The Family of the Year Award recognizes a family within the district who has made a significant contribution to their unit, community, and district.

Tenure in particular positions alone does not qualify a family for this award. This nomination form should answer the following questions. 1--What has this family done for their unit/community/district? 2--How has this family served youth & adults in their unit/community/district? 3--How has this family exemplified the ideals of Scouting?
